WOMEN'S BURDENS ARE NUMEROUS.

Peruna is a Goddess To Thousands of Women.

Woman is burdened with hundreds of duties, some very weighty, some apparently insignificant. In the aggregate, an overwhelming load.

It is to be desired when they get nervous, anxious, scary and weak. Deficiency of one kind leads to catarrh, and catarrh will attack that organ which is the source of all their troubles.

There are few of thousands of suffering women who could be relieved if they were fully conversant with the power of Peruna in relieving catarrhal ailments of every character.

Do not fail to read Mrs. Fry's notable experience.

Mrs. Sarah Fry, 301 Myrtle Ave., West Astor, N. Y., writes: "I have no words to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure Peruna has done for me. It is a Goddess to all suffering women."

"I was sick over half my life with systemic catarrh. Nearly all my life I have spent all I could make for doctors, but none of them did me any good, but since I started on your Peruna one year ago, I have at last found relief."

"I hope and pray you may live long to help others as you have helped me. Instead of being a washing drug store, I am a Godsend."

California Prone Waters, nature's cure for all bowel troubles. Act promptly upon pain or inconvenience. 100 for 25 cents. W. T. Kittinger, Druggist.

Representative Hodge, of Iowa, says, "I can find no other medicine in my store which I am compelled to pay for. I can't find it. I have tried it in my winter supply of steel rails during the summer when prices were low. Household holders should take notice."

Speaker Cannon says he objects to seeing the country held up by the tall. "Even this unpleasant method has advantages over that of being held up by the short."

MEDIAEVAL REVIVALS.

Methods of the Franciscans in the Thirteenth Century.

At least two methods seem to be used among medieval workers, both of which have come down from medieval times.

The Franciscans insisted on an obedient hand of workers, with an almost military organization. They called themselves the "Army of Jesus."

At the head of the order stood the "general," a few terms in the thirteenth century religious life. The chief of the band of workers in any Italian town took as his title the designation given to the military leader in the city republic in which they had their temporary abode.

In Venice he was Il gonfaloniere de Gese, in Milan Il capitano del Gese and so on in other towns. They had churches of learning, they were prescribed for them with definite details as if they were Methodists, Episcopal missionaries or officers and soldiers of the Salvation Army.

When they began work in any town they were ordered to erect a hall if possible in the largest and poorest district. They were forbidden to paint, either in their churches or on their temporary abode.

There are few of thousands of suffering women who could be relieved if they were fully conversant with the power of Peruna in relieving catarrhal ailments of every character.

A QUEER ANIMAL.

This Creature is a Mammal That Lays its Eggs.

One of the oddities of the many queer and unimagine creatures that inhabit the animal world is an animal about the shape and size of the American raccoon.

It is not a curiosity on account of its shape or size or because it resembles the coon and lives in Australia, where all nature is topsy turvy, but because of a remarkable habit the female of his species has of laying eggs and hatching them after the manner of birds.

This queer egg-laying animal, the only creature of the kind on earth as far as the zoologists know, is called a platypus. It inhabits the deep forests of the river bottoms of both Australia and New Zealand.

It has many of the characteristics of a mammal, such as its hair and its teeth, but it is not a mammal even in its native haunts, and it is yearly becoming scarce because of the war which the natives wage against it on account of its peculiar egg-laying habits.

They have a superstitious dread of the harmless little animal because its habits deviate so widely from those generally noted in four footed creatures.

Its tail, if being so great that it is a better composed of half a dozen or 100 families, will settle in the vicinity of a lake or stream until the young men "beat the bush" and kill every platypus that can be found.

THE SEA EAGLE.

How This Powerful Bird Carries Fishes.

In capturing the principal food of the white-tailed sea eagle is salmon, varied by sea birds common along the shores of Greenland.

In autumn when the salmon have ascended to the lakes, the birds resort to the sea. They appear to possess a special fondness for eel fish, which are taken by strategy.

Stationed near the water in a commanding position, with a background of hills, the color of which is similar to that of the eagle's plumage, the sea eagle, with a flock of other birds, wait for a time until the fish are gathered in a certain prescribed fashion.

At the moment the eagle swoops down and its talons are fastened on the fish, which is then carried to a certain spot and there it is devoured.

Two months later the eagles in their cot in the nest of the bird appeared to be disturbed.

The eagle, when they were built up with the fishes when they were wearing yellow and green in their fashion they were washing clothes by the side of the streams.

When they had gathered a sufficient crowd they were to return to their habits, but their followers in such bold and deliberate short practical and direct, interspersed with hymn singing.

There are few of thousands of suffering women who could be relieved if they were fully conversant with the power of Peruna in relieving catarrhal ailments of every character.

VALUE OF TRIFLES.

Results of Incidents in Careers of Well-Known People.

They do not, the great Dutch sculptor, after working for more than four months unrecognized, determine to quit and go home and get down the sculptor's chisel forever.

DREAUFUL DREAMS.

They Shock the Nervous System and May Even Cause Death.

People have actually been killed by dreams. Most persons have suffered from those terrible nightmare visions in which the victim is pursued by a maniac with a knife or is trembling on the edge of a fearful precipice or is in some other imminent danger of a sudden and terrible death.

These dreams are common enough, and nearly always the sufferer awakes, thankful and happy at his escape. But sometimes he doesn't awake. Sometimes the knife falls or the sleeper is precipitated into the sea.

These are the reports of those who have killed, or been killed by, a dream. It is not a curiosity on account of its shape or size or because it resembles the coon and lives in Australia, where all nature is topsy turvy, but because of a remarkable habit the female of his species has of laying eggs and hatching them after the manner of birds.

AN INDIAN LEGEND.

How the Indian Legend Was Transformed into a Bird.

An Indian story that has been a legend for centuries is still believed by many Indians to be true.

In the old days, when the world was young, the Great Spirit sent about the earth many of his creatures, some of which were birds.

One day, when the birds were flying about in the sky, they saw a man who was very rich and very powerful.

The man was very kind and very generous, and he gave the birds many gifts.

The birds were very happy, and they flew about in the sky, singing and playing.

But one day, the man became very angry and very wicked, and he gave the birds many punishments.

The birds were very sad, and they flew about in the sky, crying and wailing.

There are few of thousands of suffering women who could be relieved if they were fully conversant with the power of Peruna in relieving catarrhal ailments of every character.

Senator Depew and Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, were the only ones who repeated the Lord's Prayer with the Chaplain at the opening of Congress. Everyone is wondering what has been doing.

Congressman, notwithstanding all this, have not been idle during the summer. Their industry was shown at the opening of Congress when in the thirty minute session 4,300 bills were introduced. If there was a city in the United States that needs a new Post-Office, a state that needs a new river and harbor improvement, or a veteran entitled to a pension, forgotten yesterday it was possibly got the fault of our Representatives.

Speaker Cannon says his motto for Congress this winter will be "Let us go forward." But there are many who think the Speaker is bluffing and that it will really be "let us stand pat."

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough and heals the lungs. A critic of Russian laws says, "They come so hot from the south that no one dares to touch them, soon they grow so cold that every one huddles them and finally they are trodden under foot."

Republicans and Democrats alike praise Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles, as no other remedy compares with it. It is safe and sure weekly. New Year's Greeting to you!

Ah! rub out that 5 and make it a 6

wanted a few copies of the Green River Republican of date Dec 14 '06.

We are free to confess that this was the biggest Christmas we have had since away back in the 70's

Good New Year's hat for sale at a bargain. Don't leak a drop. Call at this office.

Prof and Mrs. Simeon, of Lewisburg, arrived here Saturday afternoon to make their home during the holiday season of this season.

Rev. Hudson, of Indiana, of Christ Church, last Sunday night closed a series of very able sermons at the Union church here.

Mrs. A. C. Harrell and little daughter, Miss Ruby, of New Castle, Ky., have been spending the holidays with the family of her father, Col. W. A. Harrell.

The old year is gone. Let go with all of life's sorrows and bitterness. The New Year is come. Let come with it Hope and Courage and New Resolve.

Master Grady Harrell has accepted a good position as clerk with his uncle A. Wiley in Louisville for which place he left on the 1st of Dec last, Thursday night.

We forgot to tell our readers about the biggest hog raised in these parts in 1906. It weighed 625 lbs. and was raised by Davis Harrell. Who can beat that?

Dr. E. A. Coffey and son Preston arrived in town Thursday before Christmas and spent a few days. The doctor is doing a nice practice in Bowling Green and has become a permanent fixture in the Park City.

We haven't any better agents or friends than Joe M. Austin, of the Green River. He is a very successful agent and has secured a number of subscribers and two dollars.

Among the many pleasant occasions which it was our fortune to attend during the holidays was the marriage of Mr. Eugene Wald to Miss Anna Moore Sunday evening before Christmas in the parlor of W. H. Hissant, Rev. G. N. Wall officiating. The attendant were Mrs. Annetta Hissant and wife. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hissant presided at a delicious cake and appetizer to three present.

We learn that our friend B. V. Breakey, who has been in town a few days, is now on his way back to his home in the West. This makes the third of his friends that he has managed to "drown" at the New Year.

Among the pleasant social functions of the holidays of which the editor has any personal knowledge was a grand turkey dinner with R. H. Morehead, at which were present all of the remaining members of the old family and the younger set. It was a bountiful dinner. It was a grand affair.

We see a great many people are wanting a settlement with us in full to the first of the New Year. That is a good plan and most of them have received what they wanted. Now we hope our subscribers who are arrear will remember this good business and come forward.

To the Public.

All parties having business with me will find me at noon of each week day at B. F. Smith's Livery Stable, where also can be left any orders or messages for me.

Thanking all for past favors and earnestly asking your liberal patronage in the future I am

Yours truly,

J. C. RAILLAND.

Prof. Geo. J. Russell, president of Liberty College, of Glasgow, Ky., spent a few days in our midst in the interest of his school. As an evidence of the great popularity of Prof. Russell and the interest of our students and school managers, two different colleges in the South were telegraphing most tempting offers to them last week trying to secure their services beginning a year hence. The professor's reply was to thank you very much but I am not seeking a change. My heart is with our college and I am remaining here.
